

Red Blaik To Stay As Head Football Coach At West Point

All But Few
Men On Team
Face Ouster

New York (AP)—Earl Blaik said yesterday he would stay as Army's football coach although his son Bob and "all but two—no, make that a few" of the probable team he hoped to field are among the 90 cadets facing expulsion in a cribbing scandal.

The coach made his announcement at a New York news conference. Young Blaik, regular quarterback, identified himself as one of the involved cadets later at West Point when told of his father's decision.

Speaking in a voice that almost broke under emotional strain, Coach Blaik told sportswriters that "my endeavor from now on is to see that these boys go out of West Point with the same type of reputation they had when they came in."

The coach said approximately half the 90 involved cadets were athletes and that their expulsion virtually wiped out the academy's football, basketball and baseball teams for the coming year.

Others who identified themselves with young Blaik yesterday were Gene Gribble, a halfback from Newcastle, Pa.; Al Conway, an end from Kansas City; J. D. Kimmel, tackle from Tyler, Tex., and Bob Haas from Dayton, Ohio.

Previously Harold Loehelein, end and captain-elect of the 1951 team, and Gibby Reich of Steelton, Pa., defensive star and understudy to young Blaik, had admitted being involved. Loehelein's home is in Kimball, Minn. He also is president of the senior class.

Coach Blaik's decision to stay at West Point, where his teams have had five unbeaten seasons in his previous ten years, brought immediate approval from the academy superintendent, Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving.

General Irving, when told of the decision, said that "Red Blaik is a fine, forthright gentleman in whom I have the utmost confidence and I know he will act in the best interests of the academy."

Blaik said the cribbing involved only advance information regarding the time and type of written tests. At West Point identical exams are given on successive days to different groups. If cadets A and B discussed the test they had just completed within the hearing of cadet C, scheduled to take the exam the next day, all three violated the honor code and faced expulsion, he explained.

Noting that half of the 90 cadets are athletes, the coach said it was natural for them to discuss their day's programs at training tables or on the practice fields.

He had read excerpts from the personnel files of five of the involved cadets, without giving their names or hometowns, and all were rated "ten" or "completely trustworthy." He said he had such files on virtually all the athletes in the case and said that all but two rated "ten." The two who didn't rated seven and eight, just below completely trustworthy.

"The point I want to make is that I believe them to have come in with the finest of reputations. Although they are in error, I don't believe any of them is different fundamentally in a character way, there is no moral reason to send them out into Army service or to other colleges with anything but the same type of reputation they had prior to coming to the Military Academy," he said emotionally.

Blaik said that West Point sought to interest football players or athletes, generally, in coming to the academy because they made the best officers and helped balance the corps "because I never saw an athlete who didn't have common sense."

"I wish we could stop this idea of knocking football. God help this country if we do away with football. I know we are in trouble. I know it is bad. But don't let's put this country on an intramural basis. I think the real vitality—the great urge to do things—comes from the spirit of varsity performances," he concluded.

Senators Press For Seaway

Washington, (AP)—Senators Aiken (R-Vt.) and Moody (D-Mich.) urged yesterday that authorization of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project be added to the $8,500,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Moody, in a statement submitted to the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees, said the "few arguments" against the seaway "fade into insignificance and unreality in light of present circumstances."

The statement by Moody, who is abroad, was submitted by Aiken. The latter emphasized to the committee what he said would be benefits arising from the development of St. Lawrence hydroelectric power.

U. S. Closes Polish Office In New York

Washington, (AP)—The State department announced yesterday Communist Poland has forced a shutdown of all American cultural activities in that country and the United States has ordered the Polish propaganda office at New York closed in 24 hours.

The United States accused Poland of "an entirely unwarranted interference with the free exchange of information between nations" and said its action contrasts sharply with current Soviet declarations of interest in promoting peace and friendship between peoples.

In a formal statement the State Department said that Polish foreign Minister Skrzyszewski had summoned American Ambassador Joseph Plack to the Foreign office yesterday and asked that all U. S. information service activities, including news bulletins, library and film showings, be terminated at once.

OPS Postpones Rollback Of Price Levels

Washington, (AP)—Plans to roll back prices of major manufacturers next week were put off indefinitely yesterday by the government.

The Office of Price Stabilization said it had to have time to work out changes which congress made last month in the defense production act. OPS operates under the act.

The new pricing regulations which were postponed yesterday would have applied to general manufacturers, and to machinery, cotton textiles, shoes, apparel, and wool yarns and fabrics. The regulations called for price decreases in some cases, and increases in others.

Harold Leventhal, general counsel of OPS, said just how much rollback will be left "after application of the Capehart amendment to the defense production law is uncertain." The amendment, sponsored by Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), provides that price ceilings must take cost increases into account.

House Votes $56 Billions For U. S. Armed Services

Washington (AP)—A $56,062,405,890 military appropriations bill—a peacetime record—passed the House yesterday and went to the Senate. The roll call vote was 348 to 2.

The House left intact the money recommendations of its Appropriations committee, which trimmed President Truman's request by $1,542,608,500. The money is for the fiscal year which started July 1. The armed services last year received $48,239,322,924.

The two who voted against the bill were Representatives Marshall (D-Minn.) and Buffett (R-Neb.) Representatives refused to put a six-division limit on the number of American ground troops that can be sent to Europe; and voted to cut off retirement pay of military men who leave the service this year for reasons other than age or disability.

Rep. Coudert (R-NY) tried to prohibit more than six divisions from being sent to the North Atlantic defense forces without the consent of Congress, but his amendment was beaten on a 131 to 84 standing vote. The retirement, amendment, by Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), passed on a standing 81 to 71 vote.

Across the capitol, meanwhile, Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said in his opinion this country may have to put more men than that into the defense army. He made his statement after Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations committee, which is discussing assistance to U. S. Allies. He said that Bradley gave no indication that a move for more troops is in the wind.

House debate on the Coudert amendment was punctuated by a statement by Rep. Taber, ranking Republican on the Appropriations committee, that he did not "want to be a party to saying that there must be a definite limit fixed on the number of troops and the number of divisions that can be sent to Europe to protect the situation we are in today." Taber returned from a sick bed in his New York home to make the remarks.

Republicans split on the Coudert amendment and most Democrats opposed it.

Coudert wanted to prevent the assignment of more than 200,000 American fighting men to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's European defense army. He said that if the administration wanted to send more, it should explain the need and get the consent of Congress.

His amendment—similar to one which the House barely defeated earlier this year—was offered as part of a $56,000,000,000 defense appropriations bill. It would have denied any money for transportation or upkeep of more than six divisions for the western European Army being set up under the Atlantic pact.

Tech President To Probe Charge

Pittsburgh, (AP)—The President of Carnegie Institute of Technology, informed yesterday that an accused Communist organizer is working for the school, declared that Carnegie Tech "would not hire a known Communist even to mow the lawn."

Dr. John C. Warner said he will start an immediate investigation to get the facts of the case.

The school employee involved is Eben Matlis, former University of Pittsburgh student. Matthew Cvetlic, former FBI undercover man, identified Matlis as a Communist organizer. Matlis, a statistician, is on vacation.

Cain Denounces TV Hearings

Washington (AP)—Senator Cain (R-Wash.) accused the Senate Crime committee yesterday of "running wild" and acting like a totalitarian court in its televised hearings last March.

In a speech before the Senate he opposed contempt of Congress citations against Morris Kleinman and Louis Rothkopf of Cleveland, linked by the crime probes with a big gambling syndicate.

Kleinman and Rothkopf, brought before the committee last March 26 under senatorial arrest warrants, refused to answer questions unless television, radio and newsreels were shut off.

HST Nominates Taft On GOP Ticket, Silent On Own Plans; Rises To Defense Of Boyle

Washington, (AP)—President Truman yesterday "nominated" Sen. Robert A. Taft for president on the Republican ticket, and said he didn't think Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

He was cheerfully coy, however, about his own plans. The President told reporters at the weekly White House news conference they wouldn't have any fun if he told them what he was going to do.

The conference was largely given over to politics, except for a statement the President read about Russia's response to the resolution Congress adopted in June expressing the friendship of the American people for the Russian people.

Mr. Truman noted that the Soviet government has finally released the resolution through Soviet newspapers and over the Soviet radio.

"I am glad they did this," he said, but challenged the Russians to show their friendship by ending restrictions on travel and communications that act as a barrier between peoples.

Mr. Truman came to the support of Democratic National Chairman William Boyle Jr., who has been accused in stories appearing in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of accepting fees in connection with government loans to a St. Louis corporation.

His own investigation, Mr. Truman said, convinced him that Boyle had nothing to do with the loans. He said he wouldn't condone "for a moment" any action by a party chairman to use his contacts with government officials for his own private gain.

Mr. Truman was asked whether the firing of 90 West Point cadets—many of them football players—for cheating indicated a need for deemphasizing football. He replied he was making a survey, trying to find a remedy without killing the patient. Later,

Washington (AP)—Senator McCain (R-Wis.) aroused a furious storm in the Senate yesterday by naming Ambassador-at-Large Philip Jessup and 25 others as persons whose loyalty has been questioned.

McCain said all those under investigation are on the State department's payroll, but that Jessup "is the prize of them all."

He charged the ambassador was "affiliated with not one, not two, not three, not four, but five groups" which he characterized as Communist fronts.

In addition to Jessup, McCain named John Carter Vincent, former United States minister to Switzerland, who is now consul at Tangiers. Vincent has been a

Russia Knew Of Jap Plot To Attack U. S.

Washington (AP)—Japan's "FBI" chief told a congressional committee yesterday that Russia knew about Japanese plans to attack the United States and Great Britain two months before Pearl Harbor.

He also testified that Communist agents in Tokyo were agitating constantly at that time to get Japan to strike southward in the Pacific instead of waging war on Soviet Siberia.

The witness was Mitsusada Yoshikawa, chief of the special investigating bureau of the Japanese attorney general's office, who is in this country to study legislative procedure. He was called before the House Un-American Activities committee.

Yoshikawa said the Soviet government got its information from a fabulous spy ring headed by Dr. Richard Sorge, a German Communist who worked as press attache in the German embassy in Tokyo. Sorge was caught by the Japanese in 1944 and hanged. Yoshikawa assisted in the prosecution.

Early in October, 1941, he testified, Sorge's ring sent Moscow a secret message that Japan was doing her best to arrive at a settlement with the United States in talks at Washington. He said the message also contained this illuminating paragraph:

"If America refuses to compromise by the middle of October, Japan will attack America, the Malay countries, Singapore and Sumatra. She will not attack Borneo because it is within reach of Singapore and Manila."

The Japanese struck at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, and proceeded to overrun southern Asia and the Philippines.

The congressional investigation of Pearl Harbor, made immediately after the war, never developed any indication that the Russians gave any warning to the United States, although at the time Russia was receiving lend-lease supplies to help her resist the Nazis.

When the Germans were poised to attack Russia, it has been officially disclosed, the United States sent a warning to Moscow.

Bus-Trolley Lines Idled

Wilkes-Barre, (AP)—A surprise transit strike, starting an hour after midnight, yesterday tied up public transportation for some 200,000 people in the Wyoming valley, heart of the Keystone State's rich anthracite area.

Citizens in this key eastern Pennsylvania industrial region awakened to find all buses and trolley idle. There was no advance warning of the shutdown. And officials of the Wilkes-Barre Transit Corp. said it was just as surprised as its passengers.

Loren Williams, president of Division 164, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Workers, refused to identify the work stoppage as a strike.

"The men will not work because our contract has been violated," Williams said.

Williams said the men object to foremen doing other than supervisory work.

Polio Strikes Five

Chicago, (AP)—Polio struck all five children of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McGurn last month, a physician disclosed yesterday. Margaret Mary McGurn, 9, died of the disease Friday. The other four children are recovering. Dr. Edward A. Piszczek said.

Allied Acceptance Follows Study Of Reds' Barbed Reply

Tokyo, Friday (AP)—The Korean cease-fire talks were on again today after a five-day halt during which the Allies demanded and got Red assurances that the truce zone's neutrality will be respected.

The United Nations delegation took off by helicopter for Kaesong, site of the momentous conferences, after these rapid developments.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, gave the go-ahead signal after studying until the early hours the grudging language of a Communist reply giving the firm guarantees he demanded.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief of the U. N. delegation, then sent a message to Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist negotiator, suggesting the meetings be resumed at 1:30 p. m. (11:30 p. m. Thursday, Eastern Daylight Time).

House Group Okays Foreign Aid Billions

Washington, (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs committee last night approved a $7,848,750,000 foreign aid program, $651,250,000 less than President Truman requested.

The bulk of the reduction was in military and economic assistance for Europe.

The committee also directed that a separate administration to be known as the Mutual Security administration be set up to take over operation of all foreign aid programs except those involving procurement and distribution of military equipment, which would be handled by the Defense department.

In voting final approval of an omnibus aid bill scheduled for House action next week, the committee stipulated that nothing contained in it "shall be construed to infringe upon the powers or functions of the secretary of state."

Mass Smallpox Vaccination Averts Threat

Reedsburg, Wis. (AP)—The mass smallpox vaccination to immunize the 7,000 persons in and around Reedsburg was completed late yesterday. Health authorities said there now was "no danger" of a smallpox epidemic in the area.

A new supply of serum rushed from Chicago enabled the six doctors working at a makeshift clinic in a school to complete the inoculation program after their serum had run out yesterday afternoon.

When the mass vaccination began Wednesday, after the illness of Mrs. Earl Fry, 55, of rural Reedsburg was diagnosed as smallpox, quarantine was ordered for all who refused to be inoculated. But health officers said not one voice was raised in protest and that an estimated 7,000 persons showed up to be vaccinated.

Chicago also had to supply added serum to Beloit, about 100 miles southwest of here, where the state's second emergency vaccination program was started when it was found that Mrs. Fry had visited there recently.

Boy Scouts punched doorbells to round up residents here for the immunization treatments. Men, women and children queued up by the hundreds at the school co-operating willingly with authorities to prevent a smallpox outbreak.

Those vaccinated ranged in age from one month to 89 years.

On The Right Track

So far the sanest public declaration we have seen on the mess our Army administration has made for itself at West Point comes from Senator Benton of Connecticut.

His is a refreshing change from the extreme views some hair-triggered representatives and senators have expressed these last few days. These views have ranged from extremes of condemnation of the accused cadets to extremes of condonation.

But Senator Benton thinks that the Point ought to find some lesser punishment for the cadets who have frankly admitted violating the honor code; that West Point ought to re-examine its system of instruction and examination, and that some de-emphasis of big time box office football at the service school is in order.

Certainly the de-emphasis of football is necessary. The purpose of the military academy is to train officers, and football, while a useful tool for that end, must not become the primary consideration even of those who play at it. West Point has always had fine football teams. Their spirit has never been second to that of any opponent, even when their skill might be. The officers who led us to victory in World War II played on football teams, or were students when West Point's football teams might not have been national champions but were always outstanding for their dead-game spirit.

At least that much of the game was carried over into later Army life.

Just how good West Point is as an educational institution is another aspect which Congress ought to consider. West Point is operated by officers, its faculty is composed of Army officers. Since it is a specialized school it should be under the guidance of specialists and it should not be subjected to every froth and whim that educators can devise. But at the same time education has come a long way since Colonel Sylvanus Thayer set the ground work for the West Point system. Perhaps a school which gives the same examination questions on different days of the week is a little naive in expecting them to remain top secret.

And, of course, we hope that Senator Benton gets somewhere in pressing for his view that the proposed penalty of expulsion is far too great for the offense it presumes to punish. While it is no excuse to say that everyone else did it, still it is an extenuating circumstance. The atmosphere which led to the violation must be considered—we do that much for murderers and let them live or not depending upon it.

It Takes All Kinds

Funny how some people can get all excited about saving the world for freedom, others about expanding the frontiers of good living, others about saving men's souls—while a Canadian with more courage than common sense got excited enough about going over Niagara Falls in a barrel to get himself killed trying.

What is even more remarkable is that his surviving young brother wanted to go forward with the same idea as a kind of memorial to the dead Red Hill.

And still more remarkable is that both are driven by a deathbed promise to their father who lingered in consciousness long enough to advise Red against trying it in a steel barrel. (Red was killed in a rubber barrel.)

Old man Hill must have been a most persuasive character.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A French playwright came here a few years ago with his new and beautiful wife. Unbelievably jealous, he had her shadowed constantly by private detectives until American friends told him, "We do not do things that way in this country. Your behavior is an insult to all womanhood. Call off those dicks immediately." Reluctantly, the French playwright followed their directive. The next day his bride slapped him across the face crying, "You do not love me any more!"

"I'll say one thing for my wife," admitted Margatroyd reluctantly at his London club one evening. "She's suffered mightily for her belief."
"Big of you to admit it, old man," Cholmerday assured him. "What'er—is her belief?"
"That she can wear a size four-and-a-half shoe," said Margatroyd.

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Fourteen-year-old Johnny Stewart is probably the most un-actorish actor in pictures. His dad is a Brooklyn meter-reader. Up until four years ago, Johnny polished shoes after school on a portable box in front of a subway station.

Now this lanky youngster, a sort of adolescent Gary Cooper, is earning $750 a week in front of a movie camera. Columbia Pictures snapped him out of the third-least spot—crown prince of Siam—in "The King and I" current Broadway hit starring Yul Brynner and Gertrude Lawrence.

It's been a breathtaking experience that Johnny has taken in stride. An airliner whisked him to Mexico City on a Wednesday—his first plane ride. His first movie scene, made on location the next two days, showed him walking along a race track, watching a horse race, running into a stable—and tripping over a goat. The following Monday he and the company were at work in the Hollywood studio.

Johnny is playing William Holden's hero-worshipping pal in "Boys N' Girls" trysts a worldly-wise jokester. Johnny a runaway who becomes his charge. He won the role over 70 other youths interviewed in New York by the producer.

The new film discovery can thank his former Brooklyn neighbors for his professional start. A school for child performers sent out a scout looking for talented pupils. "Here's a kid," one of the neighbors told him, "who sings and makes up his own dances." He spent five years at the school.

He was the singing son of Nanette Fabray in 1947's "High Button Shoes." He danced in "Love Life" for six months and had his biggest role, straight acting, for a year in "The Happy Time." He was in "The King and I" two months.

Johnny's real name is Williams, but Actors Equity Association had a John, a Johnny, and a Jack Williams on its rolls. So he chose Stewart, the maiden name of his Scotland-born mother, for a professional moniker. His brother Joe, 13, is understudy in "The Happy Time," and his sister, Kay Williams, 19, is a singer in television.

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Curious Morals

The McCarran committee obtained much of its information concerning the Institute of Pacific Relations by subpoenaing the files of that body which were in a barn in Lee, Massachusetts, owned by Edward C. Carter.

Carter is a clever man, in his seventies, who has made his way in the world of international affairs with astounding success since World War I.

It is admitted by Carter that the files are authentic. The Senators then wanted to know whether the Institute had ever made an independent check to discover if the charges that Communists were using it as a front were authentic. Carter said that they had made such a check and threw in a lot of names: President Sprout of the University of California; Professor Jos. P. Chamberlain of Columbia. This was then Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt Field; Brooks Enemy of Cleveland, now president of the Foreign Policy Association and Arthur Deane of Sullivan and Cromwell; and there were others. What did they discover? Well, this is the colloquy on the subject:

"Mr. Carter. Not an investigation in the sense of reading 400 books and thousands of letters. Senator Ferguson. Do you not think it would have been proper for an organization such as this to make a search to attempt to see whether or not serious charges are true, so if there were they could clean their own house rather than to have a congressional committee do it?"

"The chairman. The question is susceptible to a yes or no answer, and you can explain afterwards. If you do not care to answer yes or no, I think the matter ought to terminate."

"Senator Ferguson. I want to know whether or not it would be a reasonable thing when charges are made against an organization as large as this that they were acting as a front of Communism, that somebody in there would not have had an examination. A detailed investigation of their own house after these papers were seized and whether or not they did and whether or not they made a report."

"Mr. Carter. Charges that were made at the time of the seizure were in large part the same charges that had been made by a New York businessman, Mr. Alfred Kohlberg. They were investigated in view of the officers of the IPR. They were not substantiated. The new charges were so similar, in some cases so identical, that I imagine the committee felt there was no use of going through it again."

"Senator Ferguson. Was this investigation made after the papers were found in the office of Amerasia? Didn't that put an entirely different complexion on this whole Communist front and this organization being a Communist front?"

"Mr. Carter. It would have been an entirely different complexion if there had been a proven charge that the Amerasia passed on restricted documents to representatives of foreign governments."

"Senator Ferguson. You mean the fact that they stole the papers out of the files of the Federal Government, and used them, the mere fact they didn't pass them on to foreign governments made a difference?"

"Mr. Carter. I think it did because I think one would be espionage or something more serious."

"The Chairman. One would be theft and the other would be treason, is that not true?"

"Mr. Carter. You are the chairman."

"Senator Ferguson. Were they not both serious matters?"

"Mr. Carter. Yes."

This testimony ended on this note:

"Senator Eastland. How do you know copies of those documents were not passed on to foreign governments?"

"Mr. Carter. A lot of people have been trying to prove it and it has not been proven."

"Senator Eastland. You just testified they were not passed on. How did you know that?"

"Mr. Carter. They were stolen, they certainly were stolen. They were secured irregularly by people who were accused of being Communists."

"The fact is that the two raids on the 'Amerasia' Magazine offices (1945) produced a large quantity of documents which should have been in the State Department but were in the magazine offices, where there was considerable photostating equipment. It has never been explained how they got there. Those documents were either stolen, or were given to 'Amerasia' by authorized or unauthorized persons. Neither the court cases nor the Tydings committee produced evidence on how these documents moved from the State Department, Treasury, Army and Navy Intelligence in Washington to the 'Amerasia' office in New York."

Perhaps before the McCarran committee has completed its work, it may find out.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The PFU Continues Confused

Dear Babe:

As I write this letter I have been shifted to a new job with the cease-fire delegation. I am now keeping correct count of the goings and comings, and it is tough. It has been two months of hit and run sessions with neither side staying long enough to register and give right names and addresses. It takes a fast mind like mine to tell when the delegations are arriving and when they are leaving. The other day we arrived and left at almost the same minute.

The Reds nearly busted up everything by parading troops past our Kaesong meeting place, but they explained it was all a mistake. I thought they would say the troops were volunteers and that it was a volunteer parade. But they said they just wandered off the regular beat through the wrong traffic signals or something. Admiral Joy is now high-stand man in our armed forces for coming and goings beyond the call of duty. He is getting to seem shaped at both ends like a ferryboat.

These are the first cease-fire meetings in history ever held in a revolving door. A new rule was put in last week. No meeting is considered closed while the door is still revolving. I just figured out why the head of the North Koreans call himself General Nam the Second. He is the second because the first one got fallen arches and had to retire. It is time to stop yawning about saving faces at these meetings and time to begin talking about SAVING FEET.

Our Helicopters are wearing out. They were built for service in a long rugged campaign. But not for a long rugged cease-fire party. And we have all got a new disease known as "helicopteritis" which hits the knees first. It comes from climbing in and out of these machines. It all goes to show how little you can depend these scrawny days on any conference that requires both sides to get together and behave like human beings. The mere outside chance of coming to an agreement on anything scares the Reds. The world sure is in a bad way when delegations appointed to stop slugging while peace is discussed take six or seven weeks to get to Article One, Paragraph One.

Every day they meet in an old ruin, exchange expressions of mutual distrust and leave by the nearest exit in a state of deep freeze. I have seen warmer meetings in butcher shop iceboxes. Tell the folks back home there should be a collection to do something for Devastated Delegates to Cease-fire Huddles. They are in bad shape. I don't see why everything done so far could not of been done just as well by telephone. It is much easier to say "Hello" and "Good-bye" by phone than to travel 85 miles a day to say it.

The way I figure it out, Babe, the cease-fire huddles will last well into 1952. I just advised General Ridgway (I call him Ridge for short) that the whole cease-fire operation had better get winterized. And also look ahead to what the well-dressed cease-fire delegate should wear for next spring.

Well, how goes it back home? What is this about a telecast of the Dodgers in color? These burns have been coming through in color all season even on black and white sets. You could of, knocked me over with a bazooka when I read about that scandal at West Point. What is the country coming to when the young people start behaving no better than the adults?

A million kisses,
Enil.

School Heads Issue Report On Pay Range

Medium salary of the 186 teachers in the Monroe county school system ranges between $2,700 and $2,800, according to the 1951 superintendent's report compiled by County Superintendent John C. Litis and Assistant Superintendent Walter H. Sebring.

The report, which has been forwarded to the Department of Public Instruction in Harrisburg, shows that the teachers and school heads receive salaries which extend from $2,000 per annum to approximately $5,000.

Only seven of the 85 elementary teachers and 78 high school instructors are in the lowest bracket, however. Total of 29 draw the median salary, and 37 earn between $2,500 and $2,600, the superintendent's figures show.

Sixteen make from $2,800 to $2,900, and 21 more have school term salaries which run from $2,900 to $3,000.

Two, both of whom hold supervisory positions, draw salaries close to $5,000, another makes $4,500, while three are in the $4,000 to $4,500 bracket. Only one makes between $3,600 and $3,700, two are in the next lower bracket, and only one is listed in the $3,300 to $3,400 section.

Educational ratings in the annual report indicate that 40 instructors in the county system have master's degrees, while 88 others have baccalaureate degrees, and 57 have two or three years of college or its equivalent.

Six supervising principals hold at least two degrees, the superintendent found.

The same 186 teachers are carrying out their duties under four types of authorization. Five have emergency certificates, which permit them to teach in more isolated places on a temporary basis, while 31 have standard certificates.

Twenty-seven others have normal school certificates, while a vast majority of 123 hold the regular college provisional or permanent certificates.

Most of the teachers have been on the job from three to 10 years, while no less than 22 have been teaching for 30 or more years. Of those 22, an even 19 have got in those 30 years or more in their present school districts.

By comparison, the younger members of the profession move into, out of, and about Monroe county with greater rapidity. For example, 22 have been here less than two years, 21 have been on their present job less than three years, while 32 others now have between three and five years of service under their present boards.

Breakdown of the school building lists 32 elementary schools and eight high schools in the county.

Marine Corps To Release Sgt. Dimmick

Tech. Sgt. Donald V. Dimmick, East Stroudsburg, will be discharged from duty with the U. S. Marine Corps, August 15.

Dimmick was recalled to duty last September 1, after serving four and a half years in the Marines during World War Two.

He has been on recruiting duty two days a week in the Stroudsburg postoffice and remainder of the week at Easton postoffice.

After his release he will resume his former position as teller at the East Stroudsburg National Bank.

License To Wed

George R. Possinger, 19, East Stroudsburg, applied yesterday for a license to marry Carolyn L. Bush, 17, East Stroudsburg RD. 3.

One of the elementary schools (Clearview) is organized with special education facilities.

Providing definite proof that the trend is toward centralization and operation of larger schools, the records show that 84 one-room schools have disappeared from the Monroe scene since 1931. One of these (Pine Township's Leaning school) was closed during the current year.

Boy Scouts To Serve As C. D. Couriers

Boy Scouts of Monroe county will assist the county civil defense effort by providing a messenger distribution service for all civil defense messages and literature within the county area. It was announced here yesterday.

County level spokesmen said the messenger service has been set up through an arrangement made possible by Robert Wilson, Stroudsburg RD 1, district chairman of District Four in the Delaware Valley Area council, BSA.

Tentative plans call for distribution of any pamphlets, literature or higher echelon messages to township, borough or area defense personnel each Saturday.

The volunteer messenger work will eliminate previous mailing work and also effect a considerable saving in postage. Defense leaders said. It is planned to have the Boy Scouts participating in the messenger work to wear special civil defense messenger bands while on duty.

Trucker Fined For Overload

For overloading his truck, Jerome Gilboy, 23, Scranton truck driver, yesterday paid a $53.50 fine assessed by Justice of the Peace J. T. Hauser of Delaware Water Gap.

Gilboy was arrested in that borough Wednesday night by Pfc. Edward T. Beneski, who said the truck was carrying a load 10 per cent in excess of legal limits. Gilboy is self-employed, police said.

A&P's Big Values Help You Get More, Spend Less!

Customers' Corner

Have you noticed that chickens generally are plumper, meatier than they were a few years ago?

The principal reason for this is the "Chicken of Tomorrow" breeding program, sponsored by A&P with the cooperation of the poultry industry.

This six-year program has resulted in chickens that mature when they are younger and more tender, and have more meat in relation to bone.

Why don't you try the superior chickens at your A&P and let us know what you think of them? Please write:

Civil Service Board To Fill Federal Jobs At Tobyhanna Depot

Examiners To Be Located At Depot Site

Tobyhanna — A Board of Civil Service Examiners will be established at the new Signal Corps Depot here when the time comes to employ Federal personnel for depot here when the time comes to Walter, (D-20th Dist.) advised The Daily Record yesterday.

"In this way," Rep. Walter said, "applicants for Federal positions will be able to file their applications right at Tobyhanna, rather than through the Third Civil Service region with headquarters at Philadelphia, although that district will, of course, have jurisdiction."

Mr. Walter said his release of this information is prompted by the ever-increasing interest among people of Monroe county and elsewhere in his district in employment at the Signal Depot when it is completed.

"Of course," he noted, "little Federal employment will be recruited between now and the completion of the project."

Present contractor, Koch & Bros., Inc., East Pittsburgh, Pa., have 150 days to complete the first or site preparation phase of the $30,000,000 depot which will employ some 5,000 civilian employees.

Second or utilities—roads, water, sewage, etc.—and foundations phase bids are expected to be opened with the next several days.

The third or super-structure—actual building erection—phase is expected to get underway late this year or early next year. It will be the middle or end of 1952 before the civilian employee project gets into full swing.

Senate Committee Studies Imposing Natural Gas Tax

Harrisburg, Pa.—A six-man Senate committee reportedly discussed yesterday the feasibility of imposing a tax on natural gas as a means of filling a $111,000,000 gap in Gov. John S. Fine's budget.

There was no definite action, however, on that levy which at the rate of five per cent could produce an estimated $50,000,000 for the next two years.

Chairman T. Newell Wood (R-Luzerne) declined comment on the natural gas tax proposal.

The six Republican senators ended two days of closed conferences without reaching any agreement on a specific tax Wood said. He said sessions probably would be resumed Sunday or Monday.

The committee was created by the Senate Republican caucus to provide recommendations on a tax program to replace the one-half of one per cent income levy scrapped by the Senate Finance committee on Tuesday.

Wood emphasized, however, that

Board Hears Complaint Of Parents

A group of South Stroudsburg parents appeared before the meeting of the Stroudsburg school board last night to protest the board's recent decision to shift all elementary students from the south side to the Morey building on W. Main St.

After lengthy discussion of the shift of approximately 35 pupils from classes in the Ramsey building to the Morey building, the board members agreed to take the protest "under consideration."

The visit of the parents was prompted by the borough's switching of South Stroudsburg elementary pupils from homes situated on the east side of Park Ave. to the Morey school classes, effective this fall.

The board pointed out that the move was made to even the pupil load at the two elementary schools. Classes at the Ramsey building were becoming too large and cumbersome for effective instruction, board members said.

The parents asserted however, that the transfer to Morey school classes of the east of Park Ave. group means the youngsters, all in grades one through six, will have to walk an eighth of a mile farther to school at the Morey classes.

They also claimed the switch to the Morey building will make it necessary for the children to walk a longer distance along well-traveled Main St.

Board members observed that the children would still have to cross Seventh St. bridge to the Seventh and Ann St. intersection where they could proceed west on Ann St. with the west-of-Park Ave. pupil group, which has been following the Ann to Williams, to Main St. route in past years.

Several directors felt that only one crossing of Main St. would be from South Stroudsburg to the Morey school. They drew attention to the fact that the route to the Ramsey school in the hill section also includes a Main St. crossing.

They observed that adequate police protection has been available at school route crossings in the past and indicated that they could see no reason why this will not be continued in the future, especially since no new crossing area is involved.

Resignation of Miss Doris Shaner as teacher of seventh and eighth grade history in the Junior High was accepted by the board.

A resolution approving a move for a temporary loan, if needed, was also passed with the stipulation that the amount of the loan not exceed $20,000. The board took this action in anticipation of current taxes.

Sum of $19,257.30 was transferred from the general fund to the sinking fund, and numbers 131 through 140 in the $5,000 three per cent bond issue maturing Oct. 15, 1953, were ordered to be called in for payment this October 15.

A letter from Paul R. Mart, chairman of the superintendent's work conference of teachers at Columbia University, expressed his pleasure with the recent tenth annual conference for school superintendents. He also commended assistance given at the conference by Superintendent Earl F. Groner, who attended sessions and helped with their administration.

Principal Alfred W. Munson was authorized to attend the educational conference in Harrisburg this October, while Superintendent Groner was given permission to attend the superintendent's meeting at Bedford Springs in October.

Question: Is House New Or Old If Built Of 85-Year-Old Stone Taken From Razed Castle?

Friends yesterday argued whether Mr. and Mrs. Jess F. Haynes, 815 Scott St. Stroudsburg, are moving to a new or old house on Route 612, a short distance west of the borough line on Dreher Ave.

The newly-built ranch-style house is made of stone cut about 85 years ago.

Bought by the Haynes couple from Residential Investments, Inc., Stroudsburg, the construction involved some stone facing lifting by Wilbur Heckman, Scot-run mason.

Heckman used stone taken from the old Norton's Castle residence, built about 1867 on Dreher Rd. He halved each stone and placed the fresh-cut rough side outward.

Attorney C. Edward DePuy said other homes in the section may be built in the same manner at a later date.

A deed recording the sale was registered yesterday at Monroe county court house.

According to other deeds recorded at Monroe county court house yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Slovinski, Wilkes-Barre, bought a piece of land in Coolbaugh from Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Quick, Coolbaugh township.

Sold by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Frutchey, Coolbaugh township, to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. MacOnaghy, Prospect Park, Pa., was a plot of land on the Tobyhanna Falls road in Coolbaugh township.

Two Couples Rescued From Firing Range

Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md.

Two Pennsylvania couples were rescued from the firing range here yesterday after they spent the night under an anti-aircraft barrage.

The couples, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Looker, of Harrisburg, and Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, of Dauphin, had been on a fishing trip in a small boat.

They ran out of gas Wednesday night and beached the boat, one couple remaining with the boat and the other going out to search for gasoline.

An Army patrol boat stopped the beach motor boat and the couple that remained behind yesterday morning. Immediately an order went out to quit firing over the range and a search was begun for the other couple.

They were found yesterday afternoon—still carrying the empty gasoline can.

Moisture Causes Paint Blisters

Moisture is the direct cause of blisters on painted walls and it is useless to try to remove the blisters by applying more paint. Moisture is entering the wall and the painted surface is being soaked from the back. The only way to prevent this is to locate any leaks and close them. All loose paint around the blister should be removed before repainting.

Authorities Seek Cause Of Deaths

Charleston, S. C. (AP)—Medical authorities searched the Italian motor ship Taurina yesterday seeking an answer to the death of three of her crew members during a harrowing 19-day voyage.

The ship, flying the yellow flag of quarantine, was boarded by U. S. Public Health officers immediately after it dropped anchor during the early hours of dawn yesterday.

Two seamen suffering from the same ailment which brought death to their buddies at sea, were taken ashore and admitted to a hospital for more intensive medical care.

A third survivor of the disease remained on board the ship under care of a physician.

Milk Agency To Adopt New Price Formula

Harrisburg, Pa. — An official of the State Milk Control commission said yesterday the agency is ready to change its system of fixing milk prices throughout the State.

The official, who declined quotation by name, said the commission is planning to discard its present method in favor of a formula procedure similar to those used by the Federal milk authorities. The new system would be put into effect on January 1.

Prices in Pennsylvania are fixed under the present system by the commission from testimony by dealers and producers on their costs and profits at public hearings.

The reports indicate the commission would institute a formula similar to the one now in use in the Philadelphia marketing area. There five indices are used in this order:

Prices of commodities on a wholesale basis for the last four weeks compared to the period from 1936-40; prices paid by the state's farmers for 20 per cent protein mixed dairy feed; prices Pennsylvania farmers receive for all farm products except dairy products; the price of milk by 18 mid-western milk condensing companies; and the average daily sales of milk in the marketing area divided by the average daily sales during 1936-40.

These indices are then added and divided by five. The figure determined from the division is then imposed on a pre-arranged table which sets up the price for a certain index figure. For instance if the figure imposed on the table was 22.4 the producer price would be $6.04 and the retail price 23 cents per quart.

Charles J. O'Loughlin, a milk commissioner, said the plan "has been under consideration." He declined further comment.

Chairman H. N. Cobb and commissioner John J. Snyder were out of town and unavailable for comment.

Duff Suggests Gallows For American Reds

Pittsburgh, Pa. — Terming the proposed cease-fire in Korea a Russian fake, U. S. Sen. James Duff yesterday told a cheering State American Legion convention that traitors who plot with the Soviet Union should be hanged.

Duff, Pittsburgh Republican and former Pennsylvania governor, declared America would be making a fatal mistake to relax its defense mobilization because of Communist moves. He said Russia has offered "a fake peace proposal."

"So far as the Communists in the United States are concerned," Duff told the 33rd annual convention of the Pennsylvania department of the American Legion, "their soft days ought to be over."

He added: "People in this country who are plotting to destroy our country by force in collusion with Russian Communists should be tracked down relentlessly. When it is proven beyond question that they have been guilty of treason instead of dodging them we ought to hang them and we ought to do it right along."

"We will never get anywhere with a bunch of fakers and crooks like the men in the Kremlin by anything except rough tactics."

"Russia must be made to understand that further aggression can only result in another world war."

"Nobody but a fool wants war today but nobody but a fool would imagine that we can prevent war unless we are strong enough to defend ourselves in the event that our enemies have the intention of taking us over."

"If the facts support a prosecution, one will be brought," Shelley told a reporter.

The Governor, president of the authority by virtue of his office, was invited to the picnic but did not attend. He ordered his office, however, to look into the matter.

"I would not approve of anything like that," said Fine at Pittsburgh. "If the machines were brought in there for the picnic, someone did it without authority."

Lindahl Asserts CSA Employees Not Responsible For Operation Of Slot Machines At Picnic

State Permits Overloads Of Defense Goods

Harrisburg, Pa. — Pennsylvania yesterday joined 46 other states in agreeing to allow oversize and overweight trucks to pass over its highways when the shipment is essential to defense production.

Ray F. Smock, State highway secretary, said special arrangements have been made for allowing the overweight transportation through the State. The special arrangements are made by granting permits to the Army or private industry when the defense connection is proved, he said.

"I am glad to hear," Smock told a reporter, "that this system has been nearly completed throughout the nation. We are trying to give as good service as is humanly possible."

Defense Transport administration officials in Washington said the shipments will be restricted only to occasions when interruptions of transporting goods would be dangerous to defense efforts.

The Federal agency has set up field offices for accepting applications, DTA officials said. These applications are separate from the arrangements which must be made with the state.

Defends Oleo Bill

Harrisburg, Pa. — Rep. George E. Gooding (R-York) took issue yesterday with a charge by the Pennsylvania State Grange that a new oleomargarine bill before the House has "sinister implications."

"I would like the record to show there is nothing sinister, dishonest or corrupt about this bill," Gooding stated.

One type of ticket sold for the picnic permitted its holder to drink beer and a second did not, the spokesman said.

"Proper steps will be taken," said Wilhelm without elaborating on what the State police planned to do.

Shelley said he ordered the county investigation of the slot machine report on the basis of newspaper accounts.

"If the facts support a prosecution, one will be brought," Shelley told a reporter.

Hamblins Return From Trip Through The Mid-West

Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Hamblin, Arlington Heights, have returned from a trip through the west, which took three weeks when they studied the birds, flowers and geography of many sections of the country through which they passed. Because of the flood they had to change their proposed route, and report that on the whole trip, the first clear stream they found was in the mountain near Albuquerque, New Mexico.

There they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dancy Jr., formerly of Stroudsburg, who now live in Albuquerque. On their trip, the Hamblins were fortunate enough to be in Claremont for the Will Rogers Memorial Rodeo.

They encountered a sandstorm near Santa Fe and had some exciting travel on the hazardous skyline drives. After a visit with relatives in Iowa, they returned by the Pennsylvania turnpike.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The longest week of the year is the week before vacation, seems as though. Do you suppose this day will ever be over, and the social page filled up, and the last reminder on coming weddings and flower shows and summer meetings noted down?

Now in school, once the exams are over, the last few days seem to be mostly for fun and games. But instead of fun and games in the workaday world, there's heat and a scarcity of news and a humidity so thick you sort of choke on the air as it goes down.

And besides that tonight's the Court of Honor at Camp Weygand, which it's going to break my heart to miss. And moreover, it's even tougher when what mind you have is torn in two, with one half trying to think of things that have to be got ready like flashlight batteries, and suitcases down from the attic and such, and the other half concerned with things that have to be finished up, like who the bridesmaids are going to be at a wedding a week from Sunday, and using up all the milk before you leave.

Sometimes you wonder, if vacations are worth it. However, anybody can get through twenty-four more hours, I hope.

During a visit with Paul Hamill, Ted Metzgar, son of Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Metzgar of Stroudsburg, was soloist at the Coplay Methodist church, Boston, Mass., last Sunday, where Paul is organist. Ted sang "The Publisher" as his solo number.

The group of local people who made the trip to Boston included Paul's mother, Mrs. Mildred Hamill, East Stroudsburg, and Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Metzgar and sons, Ted and Bob. Paul is a student at Boston University, and during their visit was organist at several big weddings held in the college chapel.

Cubs Rally To Decision Reds, 5-4

Chicago (AP) — Rallying for four runs in the ninth inning, the Chicago Cubs edged the Cincinnati Reds 5 to 4 before 5,089 yesterday.

Howie Fox had checked the Cubs with five hits until "Smoky" Burgess got the final round under way with a single. Bob Ramazzotti beat out a slow roller to second and Burgess raced to third on Connie Ryan's wild throw to first.

Manager Phil Cavarretta went in to pinch hit for pitcher Joe Hatten. The Cubs' skipper lined a single to right field to score Burgess and advance Ramazzotti to third. Eddie Miksis' fly to center brought home the second tally.

Keeps Rolling

Frankie Baumholtz kept the rally going after "Chuck" Connors had fanned for the second out with a single to left center. When "Hank" Sauer drew a walk to load the bases, Frank Smith replaced Fox on the mound.

Randy Jackson hit the first and only pinch Smith threw for a single between third and short to score Hal Jeffcoat, running for Cavarretta, and Baumholtz with the tying and winning markers. Cincinnati 000 004 000-4 8 2 Chicago 010 000 004-5-0 0

Browns Gain Verdict Over Tigers, 6-3

Detroit (AP) — Fred Sanford — with the aid of the ageless Satchel Paige's relief pitching — hurled his first victory for the St. Louis Browns yesterday, humbling the Detroit Tigers 6 to 3 before a slim crowd of 3,709.

The Browns exploded for six runs in the sixth inning when Matt Batts smashed a bases-loaded double for two runs and Bill Jennings cracked a triple for two more.

First Loss

Loser Marlin Stuart gave up a base on balls with the bases loaded for another run and Ken Wood's long fly drove home the sixth run. The Tigers touched Sanford whose record is 3-7, for only four hits — including homers by Pat Mullin and Dick Kryhoski. He came to the Browns from the Washington Senators.

Paige, who relieved in the seventh with none out, gave up one hit and struck out four. He fanned Jerry Preddy with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth.

Stuart, who had won four straight games since becoming a starter three weeks ago, suffered his first loss.

Four Tied For Number One Position

Chicago (AP) — More than half the hand-picked, 74-man field in the $50,000 "world" championship of golf murdered par in yesterday's sizzling inaugural round in which four players shared first place with five-under-par 67's.

Despite the presence of National Open champion Ben Hogan, who came up with a 68, the scent of the $12,500 first prize aroused the fighting blood of star and unknown alike at the start of the lush 72-hole meet on the par 36-36-72 Tam O'Shanter course.

In all, 46 players smashed par — perhaps the greatest day of shooting in Tam history—including, besides the four 67's, eight 68's, fourteen 69's, ten 70's, and ten 71's.

The four deadlocked leaders were Jimmy Demaret, the veteran of sartorial splendor from Ojai, Calif.; Ted Kroll, four-time purple heart war hero from New Hartford, N. Y.; Al Brosh, balding sharp-shooter from Garden City, N. Y.; and Ray Gafford, 37-year-oldster from Dallas, Tex.

In the concurrent $60,000 women's world open, Betty Rawls, 23-year-old former University of Texas student, hammered a sharp 71, five under women's par, for a one-stroke lead over defending champion Babe Zaharias, Prairie View, Ill. A feminine field of 20 pros and amateur was entered.

Hogan making his first return to Tam O'Shanter in four years, had to drop a ten-foot putt on the eighteenth green to avoid being caught in a traffic jam of 14 players tied at 69.

At that, Hogan was snarled with seven other players at 68, including Eric Cremin, Tiny Sydney, Australia, star making his first United States tour; All-American champion Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; Jerry Barber, Pasadena, Calif.; Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas, Tex.; Glenn Teal, Knoxville, Tenn.; and E. J. Harrison, St. Andrews, Ill.

The populated 69 bracket included three amateurs, among them All-American champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio; Don Finsterwald, former Ohio University star from Athens, Ohio; and Phil Scuttin, invader from London, England.

Rhythm Kings

Rhythm Kings At Buck Hill For Concert Tuesday Night

The Rhythm Kings, five men who have established for themselves enviable musical careers in New York and throughout the United States and Canada, are to present a program, distinguished by their own intricate style, on Tuesday, August 14, at 8:30 p. m., in the auditorium of the Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

This new kind of male quartet possesses the artistic quality of not being typed on one song ensemble, for the Rhythm Kings do not limit their repertoire to the ballads nor the semi-classics, but instead, with the same delicately blended balance express the Negro spirituals and with the same exquisite beauty and exceptional quality present the popular and rhythm numbers.

Through Universal Pictures, as the Rhythm Kings, their voices thrilled theater audiences from the sound track of movie shorts; and record fans will know them as Apollo recording artists.

The group, consisting of Leonard Thomas, first tenor, Cecil Murray, second tenor, Howard Scott, baritone, James Riley, bass, and Isaac Royal, pianist-arranger, combined their musical talents a few years ago to capture harmony in all of its perfection.

Leonard Thomas, first tenor, has sung with choral ensembles including the C. B. S. Work Shop and the Hall Johnson Choir, but real recognition came through his appearances as soloist in concert. Military service interrupted his studies, and while still on active duty, he entertained allied troops abroad as a Red Cross volunteer.

Cecil Murray, second tenor, began his vocal career while attending Wilberforce University. After moving to New York to further his studies, he was chosen for the cast of the Broadway show, "The Four Saints," and he continued to appear in concerts in churches and halls.

Howard Scott, baritone, began his vocal career in choral societies such as the Eva Jesse Choir and sang in such performances as the famous "Porgy and Bess." Along with his church appearances as soloist, he was a member of the "Orleaners Quartet" of the WCBS radio network.

James Riley, bass, assured after some experience with choirs and instrumental singing troupes as the Gospel Singing Quartet and the Cecil Mack Choir, went to New York where he remained to accept numerous offers from choirs and ensembles. After a time, it was he who was instrumental in organizing the Rhythm Kings, which later became the Rhythm Kings.

Accident Or No, These Dairy Workers Were Determined To Get To That Clambake - And Did

A car smash-up failed to keep Alva Bentzoni, 41, of 1116 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, from reaching a Hellertown clambake, it was reported yesterday.

Driving toward Wind Gap on Route 12 were Bentzoni and three friends, all employed by Monroe Dairy, Stroudsburg. A heavy truck pulling off the highway held up west-bound traffic. Bentzoni stopped behind the car ahead, driven by William Mussley, Bangor.

A moment later tractor-trailer smashed into the rear of Bentzoni's car, shoving it into the rear of Mussley's auto. Mussley's small son was thrown off the back seat and the four in Bentzoni's car were shaken up, but there were no injuries.

Bentzoni said the tractor-trailer, owned by William Purdy, Bethlehem, was driven by Stephen Sitko, Toledo, Ohio.

"He told me he thought he recognized another truck driver and wasn't watching where he was going," Bentzoni said.

When Bentzoni sized up the damages to his car — fenders, grille, headlights, bumper, rear fenders, rear wheels and bumpers — it was 4:25 p. m.

He hitchhiked to Saylorsburg, got a friend there to drive him back to Stroudsburg. At Stroudsburg he got his dairy truck, went back to pick up his friends, waiting at the accident scene. The four proceeded to Hellertown.

"Those clams were mighty good," he said.
